A Noiseless Clock. A curious and considerate invention has been produced by a Frenchman in the shape of a noiseless clock, for use more specially in sick rooms. In place of the usual pendulum, the hands are set in motion by the unrolling of a chain, the end of which is fastened to a buoy floating in a tank of liquid. The fluid escapes at a uniform rate, and can be utilized to feed a lamp wick, thus giving the apparatus the double character of clock and lamp. When the lamp is lighted the necessary diminution of liquid takes place by combustion, at other times by carefully regulated dripping.

To Glaze or Varnish Drawings. One ounce of Canada balsam, two ounces of oil of turpentine, well dissolved. The drawing to be previously washed over with a solution of isinglass.

Gilding of Wood or Leather. Wood or leather may be gilt by first covering the parts to be ornamented with a mixture of whiting and size, prepared by boiling shreds of parchment skins in water. This is rubbed smooth and covered with gilding size containing a little ochre or Armenian bole. When dry, the surface is rubbed with linen, next with a hard polished substance as agate, dog's tooth or steel.

Decorator's Tracing Paper. Apply with sash tool to the paper equal parts of Canada balsam and oil of turpentine or nut oil, and dry with turpentine. If the former mixture is used, the paper is to be hung across a string to dry; if the latter it is to be dried with white flour.

Bindings of Books. The bisulphide of carbon in gas is most injurious to the bindings of books placed on upper shelves; morocco suffers least from this illuminant, calf is much injured and Russia leather much more.

Composition for Making Small Caste. Of spermaceti, white wax and stearine take equal parts and melt together.

To Polish Sea Shells. This item is particularly for the benefit of readers at the seaside. The shells are to be rubbed with hydrochloric acid until the skin is removed, then washed in warm water, dried in hot sawdust, and polished with chamois leather. If the shell is deficient in natural polish, rub the surface, using chamois leather, with a mixture of tripoli powder and turpentine, then with tripoli alone, finishing off with olive oil.
